ABSTRACT

Fall 1978 enrollment data for Hawaii's community colleges and data on selected characteristics of students enrolled in regular credit programs are presented. Of the 27,880 registrants, 74% were regular students, 1% were early admittees, 6% were registered in non-credit apprenticeship programs, and 18% were in special programs. Regular student enrollments for the community college system showed less than a 1% decrease from the previous year, with continuing trends toward numeric and proportional increases of women and part-time students. The mean age of students increased to 24.8 years, though the median age was 20.9. Full-time equivalent headcount ratios declined over the years, indicating that students were taking lighter credit loads (10.3 for all students, 13.8 for full-time students). Little change was revealed in student majors: liberal arts majors continued to comprise 47% of the enrollment, vocational education majors, 45%, and unclassified students, 9%; programs showing enrollment increases were agriculture, applied trades, aviation maintenance, commercial baking, diesel mechanics, food services, graphic arts, and nursing; programs showing decreases included electricity and medical assisting. Over 50% of the regular students were enrolled the previous semester; of the 30% who were first-time college students, 75% were high school graduates. Appendices contain definitions of student-related terms and distributions of majors by program. (ME)

SELECTED CHARACTERISTICS
CLASSIFIED & UNCLASSIFIED (REGULAR) STUDENTS
COMMUNITY COLLEGES
FALL1978

This is a brief report summarizing data on enrollment in the community colleges for the current semester. Data on selected personal and academic characteristics of students are also included. Such data are essential in describing and understanding the nature of the clientele served, in assessing and planning programs as well as in responding to inquiries from various governmental and other agencies.

The primary emphasis of this report is on regular (classified and unclassified) students in the credit programs. (See Appendix A for definitions.) Data on other students served, largely in non-credit programs such as apprenticeship, Senior Citizens Center, etc., are limited to registration counts.

Sources of Data

Except for Table I, the information cited in this report was extracted from the Student Enrollment Reports (SER) as of October 16, 1978. The basic data are derived from student applications, personal history forms, and student class registrations.

Highlights

A. Registrations in various community college offerings number 27,880 this fall (Table I). Of these:

1. 20,717, 74 percent, are regular (classified and unclassified) students in the credit programs of the community colleges.

2. 335, 1 percent, are early admittees or concurrent registrants enrolled in credit programs.

3. 1,779, 6 percent, are registered in non-credit apprenticeship/ journeyworkers programs.

4. 5,049, 18 percent, are registered in special offerings such as those presented at the Kalihi-Palama Education Center.

B. Data on the 20,717 regular (classified and unclassified) students (Tables II, III, IV) in the credit programs show the following:

1. Enrollment has stabilized for the community college system.

...Enrollment this fall shows 56 fewer students (-0.3 percent) compared to Fall 1977.

...Enrollment changes, by campus, varied: from -7 percent to +6 percent.

Kapiolani's enrollment increased by 245, 6 percent; Kauai's decreased by 88, 7 percent.

Leeward's enrollment has declined for the third consecutive year.

2. Certain trends are continuing.

...There are more women (numerically and proportionately) than in previous years.

Women students this fall number 9,867, 48 percent, compared to 9,632, 46 percent, last fall and 7,615, 44 percent, in Fall 1974. (See Figure 1.)

...There are more part-time students (numberically and proportionately) than in previous years.

Part-time students this fall number 9,764, 47 percent, compared to 9,210, 44 percent, last fall and 40 percent in Fall 1974. (See Figure 2.)

...There are more students in the older age groups than in previous years.

The mean age this fall is 24.8 compared to 24.6 last fall and 24.3 in Fall 1974.

The median age, this fall, however, is 20.9 showing that the younger age groups are still the dominant group.

The over-34 age groups number 2,527, 12 percent, this fall compared to 2,417, 12 percent, last fall and 2,034, 13 percent, in Fall 1974.

...FTE:HEADCOUNT ratios are declining.

Current fall's FTE count of students is 14,236, reflecting a ratio of .69, compared to a ratio of .70 in Fall 1977 and .74 in Fall 1974.

...Students are taking lighter credit loads.

The average semester hours taken by all students (full-time and part-time students) this fall is 10.3 compared to 10.5 last fall and 11.3 in Fall 1974.

The average semester hours taken by full-time students, is currently 13.9 compared to 13.8 last fall and 14.3 in Fall 1974.

3. There appears to be little change in the nature of the students attending the community colleges in terms of the following characteristics:

...U.S. citizens, students with Hawaii permanent home addresses and Hawaii resident tuition status continue to comprise over 90 percent of the students.

...As has been true since Fall 1974, liberal arts majors comprise 47 percent, of the enrollment; vocational education majors, 45 percnet; and unclassified students, 9 percent. (See Appendices B and C for details on distribution of students, by major.)

A noticeable change in the distribution of students, by program, is shown for Windward Community College. Reflecting Windward's expanding vocational programs, the distribution this fall is: Liberal arts, 74 percent, vocational education, 8 percent, unclassified, 17 percent. Last fall, the distribution was liberal arts, 81 percent, vocational education, 4 percent, unclassified, 15 percent.

...An examination of the data on majors (Appendix B) shows substantial changes (±15% with at least a difference of 10 students) in several programs.

Programs showing substantial increases: agriculture, applied trades, aviation maintenance, commercial baking, diesel mechanics, food services, graphic arts, nursing.

Programs showing substantial decreases: electricity and medical assisting.

...Over half of the students are "continuing" students, i.e., were on campus the previous semester; three-tenths are "first-time college" students.

...Three-fourths of the "first-time college" students in the community colleges are Hawaii high school graduates.

The community colleges attracted 24 percent of the recent high school graduates as they did last year.

...Slightly over 60 percent of the transfer students are transfers from within the University of Hawaii.

Of the 1,350 transfers to the community colleges from within the UH system, 538 are from UH Manoa, 76, from Hilo, and 3, from West Oahu. The remaining 733 are transfers from other UH community colleges.

...The great bulk--76 percent--of the students are unmarried.

Summary

Enrollment in the community college system has stabilized at around 20,600-20,800 for the past four years. However: (1) enrollment has taken a slight dip (1 percent) for the past two years; (2) campus figures continue to show fluctuations.

The data on student characteristics are consistent with the findings reported nationally. The community colleges are serving more women; more of the students are in older age groups; and more of the students are taking part-time academic loads.

What are the implications of the data for planning?
